CLRC 2020 Year End Reports Now Available

The Construction Labor Research Council (CLRC) publishes quarterly reports with detailed wage and benefit data for most building trades and regions across the country. CLRC's year end report contains detailed information about total package increases negotiated in 2020 and shows that the average negotiated increases dropped to 2.8% in 2020, down from 2.9% in 2019. This is the first reduction in the average settlement since 2008. The CLRC also produced a special year-end report focused on identifying the impacts of COVID-19 on union craft compensation data. You can find both reports, along with archived CLRC reports, in the members' only section of the SWACCA website or download them via the links below:
