

Lauren Webb
Executive Director of Human Capital
Nevell Group, Inc.

Lauren Webb, SPHR, SHRM-CP is a senior strategist in the field of Human Resources with notable experience in strategic program development, employee relations, performance management, and talent development. Lauren is a driven and compassionate leader and coach, and as a member of her executive leadership team works to advise practices which align the Human Resources function with overall business targets. Lauren has authored and implemented programs aimed at driving congruency between employee engagement and operational success, improving communication and transparency, establishing business continuity and succession planning practices, and accelerating professional growth and excellence among employees. Her passion for HR has earned her a reputation as a trusted advisor and a respected voice within the industry. Resources with notable experience in strategic program development, employee relations, performance management, and talent development. Lauren is a driven and compassionate leader and coach, and as a member of her executive leadership team, works to advise practices which align the human resources function with the overall business targets. Lauren has authored and implemented programs aimed at improving communication and transparency, business continuity and succession planning, accelerating professional growth and excellence, driving congruency and alignment between employee engagement with operational success. Her passion for HR has earned her a reputation as a trusted advisor and a respected voice within the industry.